HYLAN ORDERS STIR HIRSHFIELD TO "HUMOR"

NO PHONES ARE NEEDED BETWEEN 'DAVY' AND HYLAN; ALL DONE BY TELEPATHY

That Is the Way Hirshfield Explains Instructions From Palm Beach to "Start Something."

But Curiously Enough, Things Did Begin to Happen Here Just After the Mayor Is Said to Have Telephoned.

Says Hylan Has Nothing Against Melency—Intimates Reporter Had Attack of "Unconscious Cerebration."

Two great waves of thought are constantly flowing between the sun-kissed sands of Palm Beach and the twelfth floor of the Municipal Building in New York. Their termini are the fertile brain of Commissioner of Accounts David Hirshfield at this end and the deeper, profounder intellect of John E. Hylan, retired in a bathing suit at the other.

This is Mr. Hirshfield's explanation of how, without the aid of a long distance telephone, as charged by morning newspapers, he can lie back in his swivel chair, close his eyes, and commune as freely with his sunburned chief on the Atlantic Coast as he would to his pretty, dark-eyed secretary not three feet away.

"No long distance telephone was used by Mayor Hylan in any conversations he may have had with me since he went to Palm Beach," said Commissioner Hirshfield to-day. "Therefore the reporter who claims that the Mayor called up this city and told me to train my guns on Sam Untermyer, who alleges he spent $300,000 on the Lockwood Housing Committee, had a very bad dream. The reporter's dream became nightmare when he claims the Mayor telephoned ordering me to get out some literature on the school situation."

"How do I explain the reporter's story? That's easy. In order to understand what I'm going to say let me make it clear that there are waves of mental telepathy between the Mayor and myself. Although Palm Beach is more than a thousand miles away, the distance is infinitesimal so far as its effect on these thought waves is concerned. Therefore they are flowing quite as freely between

5,000 IDLE BESIEGE FORD'S LINCOLN PLANT

Henry Gives Jobs to 800 and Will Place 500 More This Week.

DETROIT, Feb. 7.—Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, were on hand when the first of the 5,000 or more parading unemployed arrived at the Lincoln Motor plant, which Ford bought last week for $2,000,000.

About 200 were among the favored ones to be employed, and during the week at least 500 more will get the places they had when the plant ceased operations several months ago. As necessarily demands others will be added. The general manager of the Lincoln Company said they already had orders from New York for 148 cars, and that the total value of orders for yesterday would exceed $1,000,000.

INDUSTRIAL COURT PROPOSED IN BILL OFFERED IN ALBANY

Power to End Labor Disputes Would Be Put in Hands of Three Justices.

TO PROTECT PUBLIC.
Bars Strikes and Lock-Outs and Provides Complete Control.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—The Industrial Relations Bill, designed to prevent strikes and lockouts harmful to the public interest, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Duell, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor, and in the House by Assemblyman Charles P. Miller, Republican of Genesee.

The measure, drafted by the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, would set up an Industrial Relations Court of the Supreme Court as the final arbiter of labor disputes. The court would be empowered to take over and operate essential industries during emergencies arising from violations of the proposed law, when such emergencies could not be averted through operation of the bill's preliminary clauses.

Those it would affect include all employers and employees engaged in the manufacture, transportation and distribution of food, clothing and materials entering into the construction of buildings for human habitation or use of its operations and well-being also are included. Interruption of the transportation of passengers as a result of disputes between employer and employees would likewise be declared unlawful.

Recognizing labor's right to collective bargaining, it stipulates that none of its provisions shall be construed as restricting the right of any individual employee to quit his job at any time, but holds that "it shall be unlawful for any such individual employee or other person to conspire with other persons to quit their employment or to induce other persons to quit their employment for the purpose of hindering, delaying, interfering with or suspending the operation of any industry, employment, public utility, common carrier or other carrier affected by the provisions of this act, or for any person to intimidate by threats, abuse or in any other manner any person or persons with intent to induce such person or persons to quit such employment, or for the purpose of deterring or preventing any others from accepting employment."

In disputes between employers and employees, the bill provides that they first make every reasonable effort to adjust it, the aggrieved side to present its complaint in writing and answer and rebuttal to be made in the same manner. Failing of settlement, either of the parties must, and the

PLAN ADVOCATED
TO DIVIDE YEAR
INTO 13 MONTHS

Convention Opens in Capital to Discuss Setting Standard Calendar Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A national convention to discuss the operation of calendar reform with a view to indorsement of a bill now pending in Congress to substitute for the present time calendar one dividing the year into thirteen months of twenty-eight days each convened here today. The bill would put the new time schedule into effect in 1928.

The bill would afford a standard time schedule for every year and thus dispense with the need of yearly calendars. In "leap years" the additional one-day leap would be disposed of by creating a "leap year day" between the months of June and July, as a legal holiday. The extra month of the calendar would be called "Vern" to include the "vernal equinox" and begin spring. The proposed calendar would begin the week with Monday instead of Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—"Women deserve a night off once in a while, but it is difficult to convince their husbands of this," said Mrs. Henry S. Barker, Chairman of the Junior Section, in her address before the annual meeting of the Eastern District State Federation of Women's Clubs at Ardmore to-day.

"Every married woman, especially the younger matrons, should join a woman's club and see to it that she attends the meetings. It isn't going too far to say she should devote two nights a week to her club or other interests. The average husband takes his nights off without any question, and what is sauce for the gander in this case should be sauce for the goose."

Frederick Upham's Figures on Presidential Campaign Not Convincing—Harding Said to Be Worried by Gossip.

By Martin Green.
(Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Who is the actual creditor of the Republican National Committee in the sum of approximately $700,000, ostensibly owed to banks, since the election of November, 1920, and what has he demanded from the Administration and what has the Administration done for him?

Or, to put it another way—if the money is actually due to banks in New York, San Francisco and Boston—who got the $1,493,573 expended by the Republican National Committee during the campaign, which expenditure does not appear in the sworn statement of Treasurer Fred W. Upham, on file in the office of William Tyler Page, Clerk of the House of Representatives?

Furthermore, who contributed to the Republican National Committee the approximately $975,000 which has been used to reduce the deficit from $1,683,000 as of November, 1920 to $708,161.32 as of Jan. 24, 1922, the date of the last announcement of indebtedness by Treasurer Upham?

Washington is buzzing with these questions. They are beginning to circulate in business and political circles in New York and Chicago. They are provoking gossip about a new influence in the Republican Party the assertiveness and aggressiveness of which are said to be causing President Harding a lot of mental distress.

NO ADEQUATE ACCOUNTING OF REPUBLICAN FUNDS.

The huge 1920 campaign fund of the Republican Party has not been

"NIGHTS OFF FOR WOMEN" IS NEW RALLYING CRY

Should Forget Husband and Other Troubles Occasionally, Club-woman Says.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—"Women deserve a night off once in a while, but it is difficult to convince their husbands of this," said Mrs. Henry S. ### MRS. S. N. HINCKLEY, SECRETLY DIVORCED, ENGAGED TO MARRY HENRY C. DRAYTON, ASTOR HEIR

Legal Separation of Heiress Who Inherited Millions Revealed by License.

PALM BEACH, Feb. 7.—New York society will be surprised by the marriage here to-day of Henry Coleman Drayton and Mrs. Samuel N. Hinckley, who was Catherine Livingston Hamersley. They obtained a license yesterday.

All arrangements for the ceremony have been made. The Rev. Dr. George Morgan Ward of Poinciana Chapel will officiate. Mrs. Herbert C. Fell of Tuxedo, who has been visiting Mrs. Hinckley at the latter's cottage, will accompany the bride.

No word has been given the public of the divorce of Mrs. Hinckley. A few months ago reports were current that she and Mr. Hinckley had differed seriously but there was no hint of legal proceedings. Mrs. Hinckley took up her residence last spring in the Hotel Ambassador in New York. Her husband did not join her there.

Mrs. Hinckley is in her thirty-first year. Mr. Drayton is thirty-nine years old and was divorced in 1907 by Mary Constance Knower Drayton less than three years after their marriage, one of the most brilliant social events of the New York season of 1905. Mr. Drayton came to Palm Beach in December, stopping with Pierre L. Barney, but later took the Rynam cottage on North Lake Trail, possibly in preparation for his approaching second marriage.

Aside from being the first news of Mrs. Hinckley's divorce the marriage of these two members of notable Knickerbocker families, both inheritors of great fortunes, is romantically interesting even without the elements of its suddenness and secrecy here in the winter playground of New York society.

Mrs. Hinckley was a figure, but not a principal, in one of the most famous contests over a great fortune ever waged in America. She is a year older than her brother, Louis Gordon Hamersley, but both were long dubbed "the Hamersley twins" because they were always together in their orphaned childhood and youth in the big Hamersley home, No. 1030 Fifth Avenue, at the 84th Street corner.

She and her brother inherited the millions of their father, J. Hooker

LOVE LETTER TO TAYLOR ON MISS MINTER'S PAPER DISCOVERED BY THE POLICE

FAMOUS-PLAYERS FILM COMPANY TO QUIT CALIFORNIA

Scandals in West Said to Be Reason for Removing Studio to Long Island.

The recent scandals which have occurred in the moving picture world in the West, first the Arbuckle case and now the murder of William D. Taylor, and the spreading of stories of flagrant misconduct among actors and actresses of the screen, has decided one of the greatest producing companies in this country to take the first step to break up the so-called movie colonies.

This is the Famous Players-Lasky Company, which has a large establishment in California. It intends on March 1 to discontinue all work there and remove its studios and correlated works to the East, probably to the extensive plant it occupied up to four months ago in Long Island City.

The plant at Long Island City is estimated to be worth $2,000,000 and is equipped to do all kinds of moving picture taking.

The removal from California to this side of the Continent is denied and will continue to be denied by the Famous Players-Lasky Company. But it is known that orders have been issued to transfer all the activities away from the Coast. With the resumption of work in Long Island City any possible movie colony there will be practically out of the question, with New York so close at hand. The reason for the reiterated denial of the story by the company concerned is said to be that in all movie picture executive matters a cloak of secrecy is flung about things to the last minute. It is likely that other companies will follow the lead of the Famous Players-Lasky people.

PRIVATE OFFICERS GUARD THE HOME OF MARY MILES MINTER

All Visitors To-Day Excluded From the Los Angeles Residence of Actress.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Private detectives to-day threw a cordon about the North Hobart Boulevard home of Mary Miles Minter, motion picture star, whose name has been linked with William Desmond Taylor, slain movie director.

Newspapermen and visitors were excluded from the Minter home.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—With two dissenting votes, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee voted to report favorably the Fort Authority plan to the Assembly to-morrow.

MOTOR CARAVAN OFF TO CAPITAL WITH CHAMPAGNE

Finest French Wines, Consigned to Six Embassies, Arrived From Bordeaux.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—A caravan of motor trucks loaded with the finest French champagnes will start for Washington to-day.

The shipment, which arrived from Bordeaux yesterday, is consigned to six embassies at the capital.

Actress Reported to Have Admitted Her Fondness for Murdered Movie Director—Her Home Now Guarded.

Another Note in School Girl Code Is Deciphered—New Yorker No Longer a Suspect—Valet Sands Not Arrested.

Police Still Hold to Theory That a Woman Can Throw Light on Mysterious Murder—See Jealousy as Motive.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7 (Associated Press).—A scented note dropped from one of William Desmond Taylor's books while the police detectives were making an examination of the murdered movie director's effects, according to a newspaper here. It was on the butterfly monogrammed stationery of Mary Miles Minter. It read as follows:

"Dearest:
"I love you * * * I love * * * I love you.
"x x x x x x x x x x x x x x
"Yours always * * *
"Mary."

The last "x" was two inches in height, followed by an exclamation point an inch in height.

Mary Miles Minter did not deny authorship of the letter, according to the account.

"I did love William Taylor, she said. 'I loved him deeply and tenderly, with all the admiration and respect a young girl gives to a man with the poise and culture of Mr. Taylor.'"

Taylor and Miss Minter met at Santa Barbara two years ago. He was her director. They later went to New York with the company.

Among Taylor's effects were found two letters written in a well known school girl code of straight lines and dots. One of these, deciphered, reads as follows:

"I love you—oh, I love you.
"I had to come down because mamma remarked that I always 'seemed to feel' rather happy after being out with you. So here I am. Camouflage."

"Furthermore, I am feeling unusually fine—more camouflage.
"I will see you later. God love you as I do."

NEW YORKER GIVES AN AC- COUNT OF HIMSELF.

The wealthy young New York man who was reported to have left Los Angeles on the day following the murder of Taylor, and who was enamored of one of the motion picture actresses whom police have been questioning in connection with the case was located late last night by private detectives. According to these investigators he gave an account of himself which they say practically eliminates him from consideration in connection with the case. He was located in a downtown hotel. Interest had centered upon him for several days because he was said to be a rejected suitor of an actress reported infatuated with Taylor.

The police announced to-day that no warrant on a murder charge has been issued against Edward F. Banda.
